Our Towering Pride

While reading this yearbook, we hope you reflect on your time here at Regis College. From our first move-in day and drive up the hill, to our last all-nighter, to shaking the hand of President Hays and proudly walking off the stage with our diplomas in hand, we encourage you to remember this year's theme - "Our Towering Pride."

Look back and think how far we have come and all the memories we have made. The Regis Tower signifies the building blocks Regis has provided us, the pride we feel toward Regis and how this has prepared us for the journey to the next chapter in our lives. The Tower allows us to remember our time here and reminds us how Regis has helped to build a strong foundation for our future.

Letter from President Hays

Dear Class of 2014,

When most of you arrived on the Regis College campus as freshmen in the Fall of 2010, I was Dean of the School of Nursing, Science and Health Professions and trying to decide whether or not to put my hat in the ring to become Regis President. Obviously, I did, and I have. So, like you, I have been on a learning curve this past four years and been engaged in challenges and opportunities and a campus growth to be proud of as well as lessons that teach some humility.

Humility is truth - honesty, self-knowledge, right relationships with others. If we have those virtues, we can, in at least a symbolic sense, stand up and stand out straight as a Tower and have a "towering pride." If we do not have those virtues today, we can begin today to practice them, and our characters will then, indeed, grow to be towering among other men and women because we will have a good influence on them.

Regis has a highpoint "high on a hilltop in sunshine and shadow," and that is the Norman Tower we all cherish. This yearbook and its theme connect all of you through the Tower's medieval architecture - and its original history as a source of water, its role during World War II as a watch tower during blackouts - to a centuries-old intellectual and social justice tradition going back, at least symbolically, to antiquity. One of the things about our beloved university that I have often observed is that people here - faculty, staff, administrators, alums, undergrads and graduate students - have picked up and imitated the attitude of our founders and sponsors, the Sisters of St. Joseph of Boston. Like them, we've learned to do good things and then.... Disappear. This is a way to share the light of Christ between people, and we should keep it up. It's a classical and inclusive way to share spiritual wealth, intellectual accomplishment, and human achievement, making Regis a supportive and real community, giving us a special light, a characteristic attitude as a community, a certain luster.

At the same time, you know how committed I am to bringing the light of Regis out from under the bushel basket. Today especially, you are that light. Who you have become, how you think, speak, write, and take up the task of educating and healing others, doing the work of the world in schools, hospitals, businesses, making families, leading and serving - that is the occasion of pride for me. Each member of our faculty, staff, and trustees is a light shining in the darkness of this world, too. The Tower says to all of us, Regis is Regis. You, as you graduate, are becoming living members of that great identity. Congratulations and Godspeed!

Antoinette M. Hays, PhD, RN
President, Regis College

From Our Student Government President

Dear Regis College Students,

It is hard to believe that four years have passed since many of us started our studies at Regis College. We studied hard, added to our skills, developed ourselves in the spirit of the Sisters of St. Joseph and had a lot of fun together in the process. Although we may not realize it, we have been transformed through our college experience for the next leg of our life's journey. The educational process at Regis can be compared to the stone walls of the Tower. The blocks have been carefully rooted as the foundation and then systematically interlocked to create a structure that is beautiful, strong and capable of standing the test of time. I encourage each of you to maximize the blocks for your personal wall, leverage them and build upon them for the next chapter of your life. Each one of us is an amazing gift from God born for greatness and capable of many contributions to society. Seize your future opportunities and make the most of them to leave the world better than you found it.

I wish you health, happiness and a fulfilling, purpose-driven life with the building blocks you have amassed here at Regis College. Fulfill your purpose and travel your path!

All the best,
Caroline Roche
Student Government President 2014

From Our Class President

To my Fellow Classmates,

It is truly incredible to believe that our four years here are up. They have flown by, but certainly in our time here, we have learned a lot, accomplished more than we thought, and have grown into the people we are meant to be. As we all move on, I ask that you always remember where you came from. Remember this time that we have spent here together, as it has been an essential part of all of our lives. Without our time and experience here at Regis College, under the direction of the Sisters of St. Joseph, none of us would be who we are. Here, we have developed ever-lasting friendships, life experiences, a plethora of knowledge, and the ability to live a healthy, prosperous life beyond college.

I wish you all the very best and hope that your life is filled with fond memories, happiness, health and many happy hours! Remember, the best has yet to come.

Cheers,
Megan Kennelly
Senior Class President 2014

Letters from the Editors

Congratulations Class of 2014! I am so excited to say that we have finally reached the end of our undergraduate career. Yes, we finally did it! It has been such a long, but amazing journey! It has truly been great spending the last four years with such fun and driven people. I hope that as you look through this yearbook, you cherish all the memories we have made with each other. We have learned and experienced so many new things during our time here at Regis and I hope that you reflect on those memories as you flip through each page. This yearbook is filled with photos from our many clubs, activities, events and fun candids of our days here at Regis. Regis will always be a part of our lives and has shaped us to be the people we are today. I really could not have picked another group of amazing people to spend these last four years with. I wish you all much success and achievement for years to come!

I would like to thank my co-editor Sidney Keilty, our staff, all those who contributed, Christopher Barroso, Virginia Vogt, Dan Smith, and our amazing advisors Sara Weintraub and Molly Gentilucci.

I would like to again wish each and every one of you a bright and successful post graduation! Go Regis Pride!

Kachina Bartolome, Editor-in-chief

Class of 2014,

I would like to start off by saying congratulations! All the time you spent with class, homework, tests, clinical, student teaching and internships has finally paid off. Each and every bump along the way was just a building block for you and your future; shaping you into the bright, young graduate that will be walking across the stage on May 10th. For the past three years, the entire Class of 2014 has been a complete inspiration to me. The amount of hard work, leadership, and determination I witnessed was remarkable. You all deserve this!

I hope this yearbook helps you remember the years you spent building your future at Regis, from the first semester of first year to these last few weeks of senior year, and all the memories in between.

I would like to thank my co-editor Kachina Bartolome, our staff and, our advisors, Dr. Sara Weintraub and Molly Gentilucci; this could not have been done without you!

I wish you all the best of luck in the next chapter of your lives! Once again, congratulations!!

History of the College

Regis College is a Catholic Liberal Arts and Science College founded on May 27, 1927 by the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Boston. The College is named after the CSJ founder, Sister Mary Regis Casserly. Regis College is set on a beautiful 132-acre campus, located in the suburbs of Weston, Massachusetts.

Regis College is dedicated to providing its students with opportunities for spiritual growth, community service and challenging academic studies. For eighty years, Regis College was an all women's college. In the fall of 2007, Regis became co-educational admitting undergraduate men. At Regis, there is a tremendous feeling of community that grows every year.

Students, faculty and staff alike embrace the mission of the College, which states, "Regis College, through education in the arts, sciences, and professions, empowers women and men to challenge themselves academically, to serve and to lead. A Catholic college, Regis is a diverse and welcoming community guided by the values of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Boston."

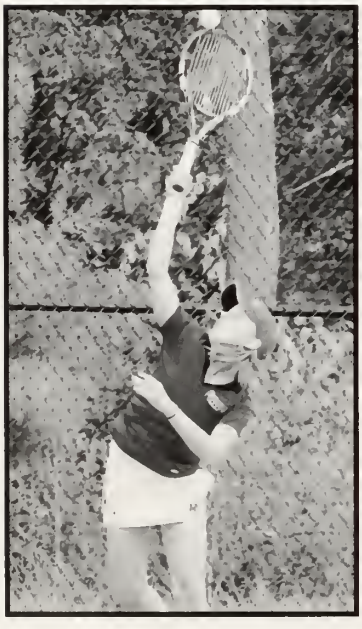
Christine Mulroney

Regis College Women's Tennis completed its 2013 fall season with an 11-2 overall record and a spotless 8-0 in the New Englan Collegiate Conference (NECC) during the regular season. To cap off the fall season, the women took home the NECC title after defeatir rivals Bay Path College in the championship by a score of 7-2. This marks the second year in a row that the team has been crowne champions after they won the championship in 2012, defeating Bay Path in the finals.

The 2013 fall season was one of the most successful seasons for the Regis College Women's Tennis Team and the program is lookir for more success in future years. The women's team is young, with five first year students and three sophomores making up the bulk of th team. This can only mean good things down the road for the team.



Men's Tennis

The Regis College Men's Tennis Team had a great Spring 2014 season as they looked to defend their NECC title from last spring. The 013-2014 season marked the fifth year for the Regis Men's Tennis Team. The team returned with junior Co-Captain Mike Beluch, 2013 IECC Player of the Year and All-Tournament Singles Player, senior Co-Captain Andy White and sophomore Austin Nace, 2013 All- ournament Doubles Players, and senior Jeff Parrish. The men brought in four freshmen this year who have added a lot of talent to the neup: Nathan Cohen, Nick Hildreth, Jarid Polley, and Jeremy Morgenbesser.

Head Coach John Ciarleglio had high expectations for the men and always believed they could repeat as champions of the NECC. The ıen will lose two seniors this year, Captain Andy White and Jeff Parrish, both of whom have done a great job of turning the program into ıe winning team it is today.

Nora Bosteels, Rachel Gagnon Shannon Simonelli, Jackie Rocheville, K.C. Camacho, Sam Dziok, Courtney McWhinnie, Assistant Coach Stefanie Bethel, Assistant Coach Margie Bailey

Regis Women's Soccer finished their season with a 10-7-2 overall record, which is the second-best finish in the history of the program Six women's soccer players were awarded NECC All-Conference recognition: Kristen Abreu, Rachel Gagnon, Adena Joseph, Jackie Rochville Samantha Salamone, and Jasmin Vivar. The team is grateful to the three graduating seniors, Andrea Barbosa, Nora Bosteels, and Tes McLean for their commitment and dedication to the women's soccer program.

Men's Soccer

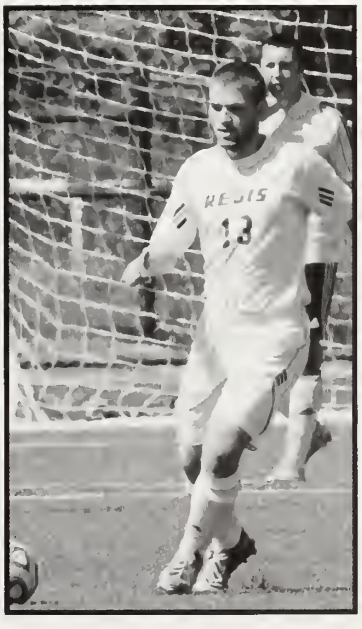
The men's soccer program completed another successful season, reaching the conference tournament for the second year in a row. One major highlight of the season was the 5 game winning streak at the end of the year. This winning streak included a 2-0 victory against the then first place Mitchell soccer tm and included 4 shutouts. The season started off with a rash of injuries, forcing the coaching staff to change formations and tactics for most of the sson, but it gave an opportunity for the freshmen class to provide valuable minutes early in the season. As the roster began to get healthy, positive results cne with the end of the season 5 game winning streak. The Pride earned a first round home game in the conference playoffs, facing their rivals from Lesley Uiversity, but came up short in that game 1-0. In that game, senior goalkeeper Stefan Todorovic had to leave with an injury during the second half. Seniors Nck Tavarez and Angel Aguilar were named First Team ALL NECC while Christian Mukala was named the Fall NECC All Academic Team.



Women's Volleyball

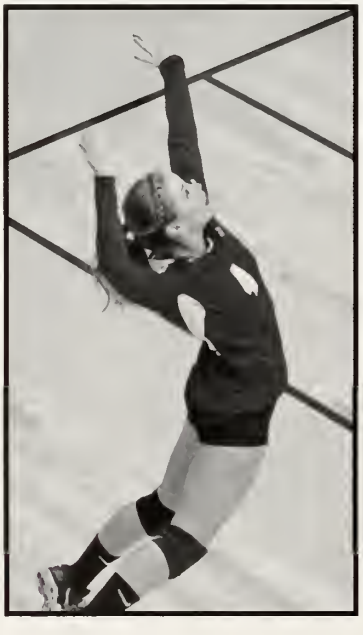
In the 2013 season, women's volleyball reached a number of firsts. For the first time, the team was awarded second place in the NECC earning a bye during the quarter final play. Overcoming another tight match against Newbury in the semifinals, the Pride prevailed movin to the championship round. Unfortunately, the Pride's season ended in the championship match, but the team is looking to take it all nex year. The Pride said goodbye to two seniors, Sara Gold and Vanessa Noesi. Sara wrapped up her Regis College career as one of the mos decorated student-athletes in program history: a four-time All-Conference selection and the all-time leader in digs with 2,000, as well as th all-time leader in career games played (439) and service aces (203). Vanessa Noesi finished third on the Pride with 160 kills and led the tear with a .262 attack percentage this season, along with 58 total blocks, good for second on the team, and she led the Pride in solo blocks a 24. Both seniors will be missed as the Pride hopes to continue their success into the 2014 season.



Men's Volleyball

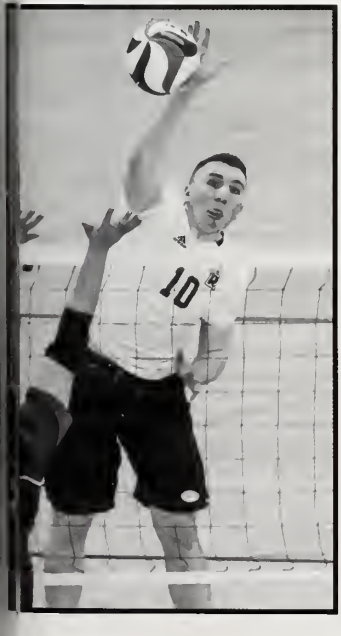
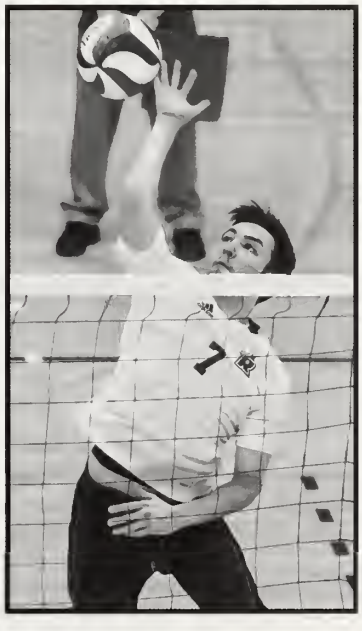
Regis men's volleyball began as a varsity sport in 2010 after having been a club team for several years. In the 2014 season, men's volleyball was able to make a statement within the conference with multiple wins. Another first for men's volleyball was highs in all dynamics of program statistics (hitting percentages, kills per set, assists per set, etc.). The Regis Men's Volleyball Team looks to continue its improvement, growth, and success with each coming season under current Head Coach Scott Wright.

The team as a whole has grown enormously within the past 4 years. The team welcomed five new additions: Sean Bisnett, Jonathan Fentes, Joseph Hanrahan, Brian Camilo, and transfer Zachary Sindoni. The new team members as well as the returning five players came together to make history for the program. The lone senior of the squad, Angel Aguilar, a three year starter, was an important part of the team's success. Being a utility player, Aguilar was constantly moved from setter to defensive specialist. Aguilar was a pillar to the success of the program, and he leaves Regis knowing he helped make the team what they are today.





Field Hockey

The Regis College Field Hockey Team finished the 2013-2014 season with an overall record of 8-11 and 5-1 in Conference play. Th Pride was led by their three Senior Captains: Stacy Burns, Christine O'Toole and Kym Kerr. The Pride's future looks promising because o the legacy the four seniors have left with the rest of their young team, including the ten first-year members that all saw playing time in th 2013-14 season. The Pride ended their season by advancing to the championship vs. first seeded Anna Maria. The Pride posted the first tw goals in regulation play, but Anna Maria came back to tie the game 2-2 in the last twenty minutes of the game. The Pride fell short i overtime as Anna Maria scored the first goal in sudden death, making the final score a 3-2 loss. The three senior captains and the sophomor goalie were named to the all-tournament team. The Pride was also honored with four All NECC awards on the season, with three honorab mentions for senior Kym Kerr, junior Sashae Walls and sophomore goalkeeper Raegan Heck and All NECC first team for Stacy Burns. Ky Kerr was also named to the NECC Fall Academic team.

Swimming and Diving

This year's men's and women's swimming and diving teams produced tremendous results under second year coach James Sweeney. verall, the team broke an unbelievable 32 records. The women's team only had broken one record in the past 11 years and only two nce 1997, but had four this season. The men's team not only produced 28 records but had many "firsts" for the program including coring points at the ECAC Championships and being the highest scoring Division III team. In December, at the GNAC Championships, he team broke five school records all by freshman Kiet Luong; four GNAC Records by Haley Bowen and Kiet Luong; eight Champion vents by Haley Bowen, Alex Graf, Kiet Luong, Greg Sarantakis, and Robert Ekberg; and 38 Finalists. During the season, the team swam gainst some tough competition but had great individual and team success including breaking several school and various pool records. At he New England Championships held at URI in February, the team continued to swim faster than they had before placing swimmers in nals in 32 events, having one NE Champion, making 19 ECAC time standards, breaking another 13 school records, and having the hen's program first NCAA qualifying time. Their final competition was at the ECAC Championships held at the Naval Academy in March. The men continued the record-breaking streak by breaking another nine school records and having 6 finalist events performed by iet Luong, Alex Graf, Cassidy Bastinelli, Robert Ekberg, and Sean O'Brien.

Over the course of the season, many swimmers were recognized for their excellence in the pool. Haley Bowen was named on the NAC Weekly Honor Roll twice, and the Regis Student-Athlete of the Week once. Alex Graf was named the ECAC Swimmer of the Week once, and was named on the GNAC Weekly Honor Roll three times. Kiet Luong was named the GNAC Rookie of the Week four mes throughout the season along with being named a Regis Student-Athlete of the Week once. With all the success this year, the team very excited for the future in building up a national level program.

This year, the Regis College Women's Basketball Team won its second consecutive New England Collegiate Conference Championship with a 71-43 victory over No. 2 Elms College. This made Regis the first team since Lesley University to win back-to-back NECC women's basketball championships. In the NCAA Division III Women's Basketball Tournament, the team lost in the first round to Montclair State. The Pride has been under the direction of first year head coach Angela Santa Fe who served as the team's assistant coach for the past two years. During her first year as head coach, Santa Fe was named coach of the year while two of her captains, Emilee Marro and Janaya Bradley, were both named to the NECC All-Tournament Team and Marro was also named the Tournament MVP. The Pride say goodbye to senior Claire Ramonas from Portland Maine, who ended her four year collegiate season as a winner, as she competed in the NEWBA Senior All-Star game. Ramonas leaves the school ranked third all-time in scoring (1,243 points), first in career field-goal percentage (.534), ninth in rebounds (716), fifth in blocks (60) and steals (226), and second in games played (110).

The Regis College Men's Basketball Team completed another exciting season under the senior leadership of Ryan Chambers, Ahmad Charles and Lewis Smith. For the third consecutive season, the Pride advanced to the NECC Final Four before ending their season in the conference semi-final game. This year Ryan Chambers became the all-time leading scorer in the program's history, accumulating 1,311 points over his four-year career. Chambers also received all conference honors along with teammates freshman Sam Jean-Gilles and junior captain Osanto Marc. Jean-Gilles was also named NECC Rookie of the Year for his strong contributions as a freshman. Marc was named to the NECC First Team All-Conference. Marc is the first player in program history to be named to the first team within conference play.

The Pride, unfortunately, will lose three strong contributing seniors but will be returning 12 players for next year's team including a strong and experienced incoming senior class.

2013 marked the first men's and women's collegiate cross country squad for Regis College. The team competed in nine meets throughout the season, including the NCAA Regional Championships on November 16th. The highlight of the season was the team's performance at the NECC Championships on October 26th. The women's team placed 3rd overall and the men placed 4th. Freshmen Siobhan McLaughlin and Matt Norton earned the Rookie of the Year awards in the NECC for their impressive top ten finishes. Siobhan placed 2nd overall and Matt placed 5th, which also won them all-conference honors. Jonathan Paul, a sophomore, received all-conference honors as well for his 7th place finish. Rachel Wong, a junior, received second team all-conference honors. Head Coach Dan Flynn won Coach of the Year on the men's side for the team's impressive performance. As the team's season continued into the second week of November at the NCAA Regional Championships, the team continued to improve. Sarah Schow, a senior and the team's captain, improved her previous 6k time by a minute. Siobhan McLaughlin, Matt Norton, Jonathan Paul, and Owen McQuaid finished their seasons with strong personal records as well. The team looks to continue to improve in the 2014 season.

The 2013-2014 indoor and outdoor track seasons brought great success to the Regis Pride team. At the UMass Boston Invitational, Matt Owens, a sophomore, set the tone for the season by breaking the school record in the 60 meter dash with a time of 7.21. In her indoor track debut, first year standout Siobhan McLaughlin broke the school record in the 3,000 with a time of 11:12.13.The track team continued their success throughout the season, competing against teams such as MIT, Tufts, Harvard, and UMass Dartmouth. Siobhan McLaughlin continued her own success at the Tufts Invitational, breaking the school record in the 5,000 by over a minute with a time of 19:42. Jeremy Israel broke the school record in the 600 at the Art Farnham Invitational, running a time of 1:27.17. At the Harvard Invitational, three more school records were set by Regis athletes. Matt Norton broke the school record in the 800 with a time of 2:01.92, which was set a week before by teammate Jeremy Israel. Carlos Romer set the 300 meter record with a time of 39.96 and Kylie Homem, a first year, set the school record in the 60 meter hurdles with a time of 11.92. Several athletes qualified for the Division II New England Championships: Matt Owens in the 60 meter dash and the 200 meter dash, Jeremy Israel in the 400 meter dash, and Tori Rapsis in the pole vault. Matt Owens and Jeremy Israel also qualified for the prestigious ECAC Championships; Matt in the 60 meter dash and the 200, Jeremy in the 400 meter dash.Matt Owens, Siobhan McLaughlin, and Tori Rapsis continued their record breaking success later in the season. Tori Rapsis broke her own school record in the pole vault, reaching a height of 10 feet 6 inches at the Gordon Kelly Invitational. At that same meet, Siobhan dropped her 3,000 meter record time by 6 seconds, running a time of 11:06. Matt Owens broke his own school record in the 60 meter dash at the ECAC Championships, running a time of 7.00. The team continued their success throughout the spring season. The team said goodbye to three graduating seniors – and team captains – Sarah Schow, Tori Rapsis, and Katherine Warner. All three athletes ended their collegiate track careers with strong personal records. All three were very strong assets to the team, athletically and personally.

Softball

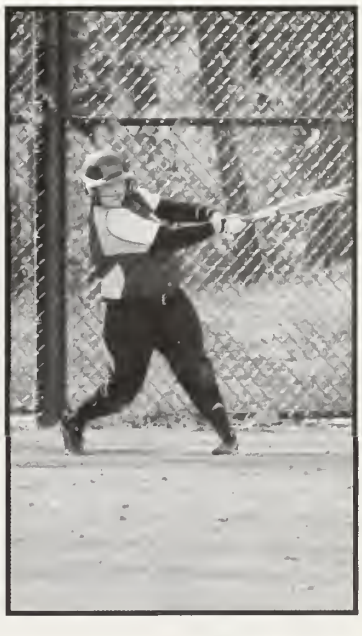
Pride softball has continued to grow and develop as a respected team in the New England Collegiate Conference. The 2014 season was comprised of a young, but solid team consisting of eight first-years, a transfer and nine returners. The strong leadership skills of Senior Captain Shannon Bradish helped guide the Pride to the team's goals for the season. She was able to do so with the help of influential Juniors Sam Bliss, Emily Pickett and Kelsey Heath. The versatility of the younger team members improved the depth of the roster both offensively and defensively. All eighteen players have an intense passion for the game and commitment to the sport that cannot be denied as they proved in their work ethic, day in and day out.

There were both new and old weapons for the Pride. The newcomers were highlighted by first-year infielders Rachel Desrochers and Allison Caloggero, the consistent offensive efforts of Rachel Tortora and the dynamic outfielding of Kelsey Morton and Angelica Arredondo. Key returners were abundant in the sophomore class including ace pitcher Katie Cuozzo, cleanup hitter Alyssa McKinnon and NECC 1st team selection lead-off batter Kirbie Garvey. Junior Sam Bliss had an exciting role as she returned to the mound as a pitcher for the Pride. The combination of the experience and talent made the Pride a dangerous force for this year and for the future of the program.



Women's Lacrosse

Abbie Wehr, Rachel Gagnon, Sam Salamone, Mary Roma, Audy Williams-Talbert, Sophia Benzan, Margie Bailey

The Regis College Women's Lacrosse Team started the 2014 season as the defending New England Collegiate Conference Champions. The Pride returned 11 starters, including four All-Conference players and last season's NECC Rookie of the Year. This season, the Pride brought in six first year players to help the seasoned veterans re-defend the NECC title and achieve the automatic qualifier to the NCAA tournament. Throughout the season, the Pride achieved multiple NECC Rookie of the Week and Player of the Week awards. The team also competed against tough non-conference opponents that helped prepare them for their journey to re-defending the NECC title. In addition, the Pride accomplished multiple team goals that were set during pre-season. The Pride will miss their three seniors, Andrea Barbosa, Stacy Burns, and Lindsey Graver as they begin their new journeys after graduation. The team looks to continue their hard work and dedication into the 2015 season.

The Men's Lacrosse Team took the field in 2014 with the largest number of players in Regis history. The team competed with schools both in Massachusetts and as far away as Philadelphia. The roster, which was evenly distributed in class size, saw players hailing from the New England area, California, Chicago, Georgia, Miami and other regions. In addition to competing for the NECC and ECAC championship bids, the program bid farewell to five seniors, Brian Cidado, Chris Campbell, Breandan Crane, Billy Stewart and Matt Vogan. All five players were major contributors to the squad both on and off the field.

Congratulations, Kachina!

There are not enough words to describe how proud we are of everything you have accomplished. You have become such a strong, compassionate, beautiful, and confident woman and will make an amazing nurse. Keep a positive attitude and know that we will always be with you along the way. We are so happy to see your success and achievement at Regis these past four years.

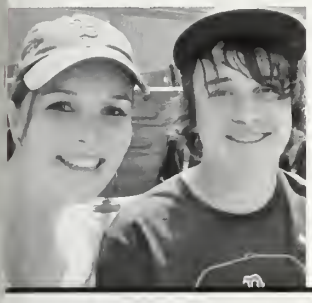
Love always,

Mom, Aleetha, Steven, Jonathan,
Vanessa and all your cousins,
aunts, and uncles.

Morgan,

From the moment you entered our lives, you have given us such joy. It has been our pleasure to watch you grow, cry, learn, laugh, love and turn into the beautiful woman you have become. Life isn't without its trials and tribulations, but it's with these that we become who we are. We encourage you to keep learning, always opening your mind and your heart to new things, and you will go far. Always give thanks to those who have helped you along the way. Be proud of who you have become, because we are so proud of you.

Love always,
Mom, Dad and Brad

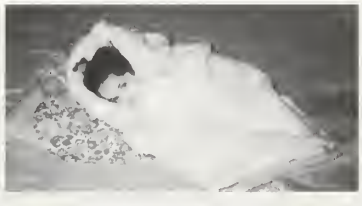


Stacy, congratulations!

We are so proud of you and all that you have accomplished at Regis College. The achievements you have made through academics and in athletics will lead you to a successful future. Follow your heart, dreams, and always believe.

Love Mom, Dad, & Phil

Congratulations, Brittany!



Congratulations, Tacha!

My little bunny, I know it has not been easy, but by God's grace you made it! The most gratifying days of my life have been to see you grow into this beautiful woman and also to have seen you graduate from preschool, middle school, high school, and now COLLEGE. Thank you for always making me proud !

Love, mommy.
